Kelly Spicers

Recruitment Fraud Notice

Kelly Spicers is committed to providing a safe and transparent hiring process for all applicants.

Please be aware that fraudulent job postings and recruitment communications can occur across many companies and industries. Kelly Spicers will only contact candidates through official company channels and will never ask for payment or sensitive personal or financial information prior to an offer of employment or outside of official onboarding processes.

If you receive a communication that appears suspicious or claims to be from Kelly Spicers but does not seem legitimate, we encourage you to verify its authenticity or report it to HR@kellyspicers.com.
